

The lamp has light source and two semi-transparent light reflectors connected at the support part as a cup with flanging edge, the bottom at circle and in center has openings; at that one light reflector rests directly at the support part, and the other one – is connected by suspensions to stopper. The light reflectors have concentric crimps, and one of those has in center opening for light source restricted with hemisphere.