

Method of definition of ageing terms of table wine products and wines includes definition of a system of optical and chemical indicators of a specimen under study and mathematical calculation of ageing terms according to the formula for white and red table wine products and wines.