

A method for producing granulated lime-ammonium nitrate from limestone, which method comprises granulation in drum-granulator-drier by sputtering on the screen of suspension recycle, being obtained before granulation by mixing at first fusion cake of ammonium nitrate with ammonium sulphate and solution, after purification of effluent gases with subsequent addition of reactive limestone and drying.