

A removable unit for heat insulation of the equipment of pipelines is a multi-layer mat, this is fixed by means of straps and is arranged in shape of a polygon with technological openings, and the straps are placed at the ends of the unit.