

The invention relates to the antibodies binding specifically with Cripto epitope. The invention also relates to the pharmaceutical formulation containing at least one of the antibodies, the application of antibody, and the method for modulating in vitro growth of cancer cells. The method comprises the stage of the addition of antibody to the sample.