

A method for producing granulated complex fertilizer with granules of increased strength involves mixing lime and ammonium nitrate in the form of polycomponent salt solution of potassium production with mineralization of 150-300 g/l, saturated at the temperature of 20-80 °C with the mixture of phosphate and potassium fertilizer, granulation and drying the obtained mixture.