

The present invention relates to isolated peptide for promoting anti-tumor immune response consisting of the amino acid sequence Tyr-Ser-Leu and a pharmaceutical composition consisting of an effective amount of a peptide and use of the pharmaceutical composition. Also, invention proposes methods for treatment cancer diseases of mammals.