

The invention relates to the freeze-dried pharmaceutical containing Cetuximab or Matuzumab antibodies against receptor to endothelial growth factor (EGF receptor), and the sugar, the amino acid and polysorbate as the excipients. The preparation possesses the increased stability even at elevated temperatures and used parenterally after its reconstitution as antitumor drug.