

The invention relates to electric engineering, in particular to cable engineering. The cable includes one or a number of stranded insulated conductors. It has a screen made from copper band. Moreover, a cable has a thermal barrier created by mica band or mica-loaded paper. The cable has enhanced fire resistance and may work at temperature 700 °C during 90...180 minutes.