

Method for filling scraper bucket with earth due to traction force of tractor. Filling of bucket is performed in two stages, at that at first stage one fills cavities of front gate in bulldozer mode, at that the back wall is mover to end front position with respect to knife system and at second stage back wall is taken to end back position with willing bucket itself.