

A method for a physical pre-treatment of a clarithromycin comprises adding water to the clarithromycin on the basis of 1ml of water per 1 g of clarithromycin, the solubility of the clarithromycin in water being less than 0.1 g/L, followed by drying.