

The invention relates to a process for the preparation of mercaptoorganyl(alkoxysilanes), wherein bis(alkoxysilylorganyl)polysulfides are hydrogenated with hydrogen and a transition metal catalyst in a solvent without the addition of alcohols, H_2S or water.