

Mercaptoorganyl (alkoxysilanes) are produced by hydrogenating bis(alkoxysilylorganyl) polysulfides at less than 190 °C and less than 100 bar with hydrogen and a transition metal catalyst without the addition of water, alcohol, dihydrogen sulfide.