

Method for determination of perchlorate in water medium, this is in obtaining ion associate of perchlorate with crystalline violet with following its concentration on tablet made of foamed polyurethane that is previously treated with toluene, with determination with method of spectroscopy of diffuse reflection, or with visual-test method.