

A method for the forced chess game provides for the modified moves of the pawns combining the vertical forward moves, the diagonal moves for hitting the opposite pieces, and the horizontal moves for unblocking the pawn blocked by any piece, and the modified moves of the knights.