

An axially symmetric, bifocal, non-progressive ophthalmic lens which, in a smooth pathway between a distant vision field and a near vision field, has no perceptible progression of power, dividing line, image jump, nor other optical distortion.