

The device relates to telemechanics system and can be used for sporadic information transmission from deliverers, the state being defined by two discrete signal "1" and "0". The aim of the invention is speed increase of the device at the expense of introducing to information sending only from deliverers, the state of which being changed.