

The invention relates to design of dryer for drying imitated caviar made of natural products and can get broad use in foodstuff and other fields of industry. A dryer has body with hollow shaft connected to agitator. The agitator is arranged as hollow disc with hub and ribs to which blades with rods are attached. At the side surface of the body in its upper part opening with branch pipe is arranged for cold air supply.