

Textile antimicrobial set for the purposes of surgery is made of textile materials and has antimicrobial effect, it includes linen for operating room: sheets for separation of the operation area and covering the operation and instrument tables, napkins and bandage materials, serviettes and tampons for drying the operation wounds.