

Rail connection has two rails having double-T profile, onlay with four openings, screws, nuts and engraved washers. The rails are made with slants at the ends, for drop-like cast at the onlay. Between the nuts and the support washers springs are placed, those are installed on screws installed in cylindrical openings of the onlay.