

Two-piston mortar-concrete pump with cam drive and back link has an installed before the suction valve under loading tank horizontal screw with re-accumulation unit at the free end, this provides forced supply of building mortar to the working chamber of the pump with possibility of control. Over the free end of the screw in loading tank a pocket is provided, this makes it possible to eliminate possibility of plugs formation at closed suction valve.