

The utility model relates to the area of rifle arms. The revolver for shooting with bullets with non-mortal action has the body with the barrel, the reel with cells. To increase the accuracy and the grouping of shooting, the diameter of the barrel is made smaller than the diameter of the bullet.