

A process for preparation of peroxidated perfluoropolyesters obtaining comprises the interaction of perfluorolefin with oxygen in the medium of organic solvent. Condensed halogenated carbon is used as organic solvent. The interaction of perfluorolefin with oxygen in the medium of condensed halogenated carbon is made by supply into a reactor..