

The invention relates to the petrochemistry and can be applied in production of additives for the fuel and lubrication materials.

The universal additive contains aliphatic C₁-C₄ monatomic limit spirit. It additionally contains urea, acetic acid, and water.