

The invention relates to metallurgy, more particular to the chemical composition of cast iron for cut disks. A cast iron contains carbon, silicon, manganese, phosphor, chromium, copper, molybdenum, titanium, rare-earth metals and iron.