

Invention relates to the technology of crushing materials, namely, to the lining of rattlers, and it can be used in mining, cement, energy industry.

Lining consists of a set of rolled armor plates with individual fastening to the drum of mill, which include working surface, lateral faces, and base.