

The invention relates to the glue compositions on the basis of urethane rubbers and can be applied in footwear industry for the gluing of upper details to the soling.

The glue composition contains urethane rubber of ester-type and the derivative of biuret.