

The invention relates to the chemical etching of silicides of metals. Solution contains hydrofluoric and nitric acids. It additionally contains orthophosphoric and acetic acids.