

The method for organism detoxication is carried out by perfusion of 400 ml blood through the column with hemosorbent. One vein puncture is made, and blood sampling is carried out directly in column. After that blood reinfusion is carried out by tee-joint, placed between column and needle for venipuncture, in the same vein with simultaneous influence by ultraviolet rays on the blood for 5-7 minutes.