

An invention relates to the compositions for hot repair of furnace lining by method of ceramic weld deposition and can be used in metallurgical, glass, coke-chemical and other branches of industry.
The mixture comprises quartzite powder, diabasic powder, aluminium and silicon powder.