

System of authorized access to transmission of a vehicle has placed in carter closed with case engagement mechanism that includes drive disc connected to case of engagement, this is connected to fly-wheel of crankshaft, driven disc with friction onlays installed on primary shaft of transmission box and pressed with drive disc by means of diaphragm spring to fly-wheel, clutch for switch-off of engagement connected to drive of engagement switch-off. System is equipped with computer and executive mechanism that consists of control unit, electric motor, transfer mechanism. The appliance for control management is connected to mains of computer, and with output – to electric motor shaft of which is connected to inlet link of transmission mechanism.