

The invention relates to the machine-tool construction. A grinder rest contains a screw; moreover lower jaw is located so that the angle formed by normal to its working surface and vertical line makes 17... 19 degrees.