

The invention relates to area of machine-building, in particular to traction two-hinge plate chains. Two-hinge plate chain has links made of plates connected to each other with cross as outer and inner cramps made of sheet material, in eyes of cramps axles are hinged with rollers in normal to each other planes.