

Invention relates to a medicine. The method provides the introduction of a drug in the human organism and preliminary action on its solution by the physical agents. The ray of helium neon laser irradiates a solution of the drug, at that an irradiation is carried out by 500-700 MWt/mm² power during 300-360 sec.