

The invention relates to the field of spray devices and can be used at the enterprises in many fields of industry in the cooling systems of water. A nozzle contains a cylindrical housing with branch pipes of water supply and outlet at the end of housing and a hydraulic propeller installed in the housing with possibility of rotation around its axis and rigidly connected with an atomizing element, which outruns the limits of outlet.