

The invention relates to technological compositions of heatproof and heat –resistant materials for covering lining of coke furnace door and can be used in by-product coking and metallurgical industries. A composition for covering chamotte lining of the coke furnace door comprises trivalent chrome oxide, orthophosphoric acid and titanium dioxide.