

The invention relates to the medicine. The device consists of the vacuum pump connected to the vacuum cap with the source of optical emission inside.