

In the method for filling cavities behind the mine working timbering cavity behind the timbering is filled with a solidifying massif arranged from hoses equipped with two vessels filled with bulk mix that solidifies after being wetted. Solidifying mix adheres to the vessels material and to steel timbering and mesh tightening. Pliancy of the filling behind the timbering is controlled by supplying water via pipeline to the inner vessel.