

The invention relates to chemical and petroleum-chemical industry and concerns composition and a process for the preparation of adsorption-active additive intended for use in soap work industry instead of cocoa oil. An adsorption-active additive contains multifunctional oxygen-containing compounds and triethanolamine.