

The invention relates to compositions of washing and cleaning agents and may be used for purification of metal surfaces from various contaminations, including radioactive ones.

An agent comprises a base, containing binding agent, orthophosphoric acid, complexons and water, and hardening agent, containing potassium dichromate or sodium aqueous solution, aqueous solution of chromium (VI) oxide, and water.