

Invention relates to nonalcoholic branch of food industry. The method includes following stages: preparation of wort, its fermentation and isolation of microbe culture. As microbe culture is used Medusomyces gisevii V and as stuff may be used carbon-containing concentrates. For strengthening medicinal and preventive action of drink an infusion of herbs may be used.