

The invention relates to the alloys on the base of iron, predominantly to steels, intended for producing of boring, oil-well and casing pipes of oil assortment. Steel contains iron, carbon, manganese, silicon, chromium, nickel, copper, aluminium, titanium, nitrogen, arsenic and vanadium.