

The invention relates to the field of obtaining the conveyor belts, in particular, belts from all-fabric body and plastics. A method includes use of all-fabric body and plastics, at that all-fabric body is impregnated with impregnating pastes, subjected to preliminary gelatinization, and then reinforced gaskets and rubber-plastic layers are applied, second gelatinization and molding in continuous device for molding.