

The invention relates to the equipment of sugar industry and intended for treatment of sugar-containing solution with lime. A defecation pan comprises a cylinder housing with conical bottom, juice agitator, device of change of its level in overhead part that consists of a vertical pipe and a float, and nozzles for juice supply and takeoff.