

The invention relates to the veterinary medicine, namely to the veterinary diagnostic techniques. The technique comprises the assessment of the metabolic alterations in uterus affected by pyoinflammatory process.