

The invention relates to the medicine, in particular to the pharmaceutical drugs, and may be used for treating the radiculitis, the myositis, mono- and polyarthritis, the ischias, the lumbago, the neuralgia, the tracheitis, the bronchitis, and bronchopneumonia. The drug comprises analgin, the extract of belladonna, the extract of the capsicum, and the excipients, namely the flour, zinc oxide, the softeners – the anhydrous lanolin, the vaseline oil, the adhesive agents – the natural rubber, the rosin, and the oxidizer – agidol.