

The invention relates to aviation technology, in particular, to the designs of hang-gliders. A flight device includes a motor cart and a flexible wing. The wing consists of keel and side beams, mobile cross beam, mast, carrying anti-drag wire and skin, bank and pitch controls.