

The composition for treating and preventing disorders of microcirculation and trophics in the diseases of the veins and the traumatic edema comprises venotonic component, the lipophilic substance, heparin, the mint oil, the gel-forming agent, and hydrophilic solvents, namely the purified water. The composition also contains glycyram and Tween-80. L-lysine escinate is used as venotonic component, the soybean phospholipids are used as lipophilic component, methylcellulose is used as gel-forming agent, and propylene glycol – as the hydrophilic solvent.