

The invention relates to fungicide compositions and to the method for treating crops with it. According to the invention fungicidal composition comprises bromuconazole (B) and another triazole (A) chosen from tebuconazole and epoxiconazole. The invention is useful in controlling fungal attacks on crops and provides high efficiency in combating septoria spot, rust and fusarial wilt of crops.