

The invention relates to mining, in particular to auger anchors, and can be used for fixation of non-stable rocks in underground workings. Auger anchor has rod with at least one radial lug arranged in screw line along the long axis of the rod. Angle of inclination of screw line with respect to long axis of the rod is equal to 17-25 degrees.